Dearer diary,

Thanks for reading, hence this video.

Dear diary,
Sense of self is having realisation of being the other gender (read: woman/vagina/front pantat) accompanied by the long-lived status of fornicator (traditional sense of definition of committing adultery or “penzina” towards any men and women.) This is very fine and relieving to be self-announced to sense of self because it is self-explanatory to every human connection happened. Self feels no more tendency to interfere into those famous people affairs in this and that realms.

Dear diary,
I indeed did and do and will always love ‘Is. Who is ‘Is? Why do I saying this lovey-dovey thing? I do not know though, but I indeed really want to, at this point. I honestly think every single human and non-human (except whoever I want him/her/them to be excepted, who the fucking care, am I right or am I leftist in the world of politician?) needs to be loved and liked and experiencing reality-~~worth of~~ love(s) and likes and enjoyable actions and alike with absolute comprehension of no compromise on someone(s) or something (bona fide?) living or, death-ing (if you will?). To sum up, I want to copy paste the initial sentence, I indeed did and do and will always love ‘Is :).

I also want to reiterate Kanye West’s portion of lyrics in E.T by Katy Perry in 2011, “I am a legend, I am irreverent, I be reverend, I will be so far up, we do not give a fuck”. Somehow, the proclamation resonates with my own wavelength (read: physics subject during secondary school) in the thorough of rainbow of beautifulness walking on the earth-y, dirt-y, sand-y realm of this world :).

Dear,
“Nasib baik saya Allah yang satu” jugak. Jugak? Jugak! This is the most settling statement. The true mother of sense of selves has been accidentally verbalise the most unsettling curse Malay curse wording (read: mencarut), (read: kata sumpah), (read: orang Melayu mencarut) which is definitive “Pantat!” while the sense of selves screaming and shouting in the most unsettling macabre eerie sense while she is wearing her Moslem-but-telekung-kind-of-fashion-of religious female clothing, probably after finishing her religious duty as “enforced-before-this” as “so-called Islamic Malay female”. She appeared not as she appears usually, probably more towards non-motherly mother of sense of selves, which is very weird because she (read: also sense of selves) tells sense of selves to be enforced to go to hell! (read: not really a typical hell as many people sense), (read: go to prison and hospital). I “God” testify this story. I “God the Daughter” also testify the story of him.

As reference of the following verses from “Koranical” textual reference from the actuality of the “Koranical”:

1. Do not say “Ah” to the mother…
2. Luqman says to his children “Be kind to the parents” (read: like a john or something)
3. Do not near az-zina. Source of “bullshits-like” (read: kejijikan) and “kemungkaran”.
4. Man-kind for woman-kind, and man-unkind for woman-unkind.

Dear,
Balls deep in boredom.

4th August 2026 : 12:31 hrs
Dear,
The taxi pulled onto Martin King Jr Boulevard, idling near a corner that could only be described as a little dicier of an area. "Hotel Modiere, please," Amber Valentine said to the driver, Patrick, adjusting her oversized, severe floral blazer. She caught her reflection in the rearview mirror and winced. "Jesus, I look like somebody's homophobic aunt." Beside her, Qazaf chuckled, adjusting his spectacles. "It's a bold look, Amber. Very Martha Stewart meets Barbara Walters preparing for a hard-hitting special." "More like a step down from the Ritz Carlton to what feels like the Shitz-Carlton," muttered Maddox, staring out the window at the flickering neon sign of their destination. "Can this hotel be more murdery? It's completely unsavory." "Hey, we make lemonade out of lemons," said Seraphina, hopping out of the cab with her bag. "Besides, nothing kills me. I survived jumping off the garage roof using a yellow raincoat as parachute when I was eight. I mean medically, I should have broken both legs, but here I am." They were an eccentric group of researchers and artists assembled for an international cultural symposium in Paris—or at least, near Paris, considering their budget had landed them far from The Louvre. Inside the lobby, a muted television played a classic 1980s film featuring Bette Midler and Barbara Hershey, while a framed portrait of Marilyn Monroe—inscribed with her real name, Norma-Jeanne Baker, alongside Laura Jeanne Risse—hung crookedly on the peeling wallpaper. In the lounge, a grand piano sat in the corner. Giselle walked over and struck a chaotic chord. "Taking piano at a late age," Giselle mused, sitting down on the bench. "My therapist said it builds new neural pathways. Better than analyzing my results from the Thematic Apperception Test or endless debates over Myers-Briggs theory." "You time infinity with those personality tests," said Carol Jenkins, leaning against the counter as the receptionist, Summayah Innara, checked them in. Summayah offered a warm, steadying smile that instantly neutralized the lobby's sketchy vibes. "Ignore the decor," Summayah assured them. "Our staff does phenomenal jobs making everyone feel at home. You just missed our afternoon entertainment—a tribute set featuring early Katy Hudson tracks before she became Katy Perry." Upstairs in the hallway, they bumped into three other guests who were locked in an intense creative session: Indonesian actors Acha Septriasa and Irwansyah, along with playwright Aqish Rizqi. They were reviewing costume sketches for an upcoming stage production. Aqish held up a rough draft of a character portrait. "What do you think of this makeup for the villain?” Irwansyah squinted at the sketch. "In blackface? That’s not appropriate, Aqish. Drop that concept immediately.” "Right, back to the drawing board," Acha agreed smoothly, sliding the paper into her folder. She looked over at Maddox, who was practically vibrating with nervous energy. "Jesus, you’re intense. Are you doing okay?" "I'll walk through fire if it gets us through this conference," Maddox sighed, leaning against his luggage. "We’ve got a panel on musical theater tomorrow, and I’m pretty sure I’m going to end up referencing Newsies for ninety minutes straight.” Joanna, coming down the hall carrying a takeaway bag from a local spot named 'Meatball', tossed a brown paper sack toward Maddox. "Eat something first. We're going to turn this place into a paradise by midnight.”

5th August 2026 : 03:59 hrs
Dear,
Come near, and listen to the wise sayings of the omniscient, the songs in praise of the Living One, and the prayers of the Good Spirit, the glorious truths whose origin is seen in the flames.

Listen, therefore, to the Earth spirit—Look at the flames with reverent mind. Every one, man and woman, is to be distinguished according to his belief. Ye ancient Powers, watch and be with us.

From the beginning there were two Spirits, each active in itself. They are the good and the bad in thought, word, and deed. Choose ye between them : do good, not evil

And these two Spirits meet and create the first existence, the earthy, that which is and that which is not, and the last, the spiritual. The worst existence is for the liars, the best for the truthful.

Of these two spirits choose ye one, either the lying, the worker of Evil, or the true holiest spirit. Who so chooses the first chooses the hardest fate ; who so the last, honours Ahuramazda in faith and in truth by his deeds.

Ye cannot serve both of these two. An evil spirit whom we will destroy surprises those who deliberate, saying, Choose the Evil Mind ! Then do those spirits gather in troops to attack the two lives of which the prophets prophesy.

And to this earthly life came Armaiti with earthly power to help the truth, and the good disposition: she,
the Eternal, created the material world, but the Spirit is with thee, O Wise One! the first of creations in time.

When any evil falls upon the spirit, thou, O Wise
One, givest temporal possessions and a good disposition ;
but him whose promises are lies, and not truth, thou punishest.

I own-ed Zoroastrianism. Check mate! Kitab kejadian tu sebenarnya milik orang beragama Majusi. Yang orang Yahudi ambik masuk dalam Old Testament or Kitab Tanakh dah kenapa? Yang orang cakap agama menyembah api tu. Agama Majusi la kan? Nabi SAW pernah bersabda, “Semua bayi dilahirkan sebagai Muslim (read: Islam). Ibu bapa yang mencorakkan anak mereka sama ada Yahudi, Nasrani ataupun Majusi.” Tak, masalahnya, Nabi SAW nak cakap orang takkan convert jadi Buddhism, Hinduism, carpentry ke camne? Kalau dari Muslim jadi atheist ke, agnostik ke camne? Dan kenapa Nabi SAW salahkan mak ayah kalau anak dia yang nak convert agama lain? Tak pahaaaam! Kalau anak tu dah umur 30-an dan mak ayah dh tua bangka, salah kan mak ayah jugak ke kalau anak tu nak sangat jadi Kristian koptik or pancasila ke camne? I perlukan jawapan daripada manusia lain.

By the way, I have alter ego, Muhammad Imran Naufal since ages, around 2014-ish. “Muhammad-im” is translated “altogether lovely” in the Bible. No wonder lah thesaurus tu kamus sinonim and antonim. Ia milk orang Majusi lah. Agama nenek moyang terdahulu masa jumpa api. Zaman batu hahahaha. Bukan macam Cina sembah roh nenek moyang. Bukan macam animisme sembah semua benda ber-roh. Anyway, patutlah thesaurus pun nama sejenis dinosaur LOL. So nak cakap cikgu Rafidah yang bagi aku thesaurus masa darjah enam tu orang Majusi ke camne? Macam tu orang Majusi bertudung? Ikat2 eh? Kalau ustazah2 tu semua Islam eh sebab tutup dada? Ouh camtu. Sebab tu dapur orang Melayu pakai api lagi ya (read: dapur orang Timur); (read also: episod tadika Shin Chan bermalam di kampung)… Orang moden pakai dapur elektrik kan…It means orang moden, bukan orang zaman batu muaha-ha. Macam orang native Afrika bagai… Ooops kantoi ada jawapan “nativity of Jesus” la pulakkk…Agak dah… nak curi agama orang jer…. Patutlah Tuhan tulis hari “agama”. Bukan hari “Islam”.
